TAFT SEES NO NEED TO CALL CONGRESS BACK

Senator, on Eve of Western Tour, Says European Data Not Ready Yet.

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Sept 8 — Senator Robert A Taft (R-Ohio) today said he could see no reason for a special session before congress convenes next January.

Taft said there was certainly no reason for a special session on domestic affairs' and that information on foreign aid would not be ready for congressional action before Jan 1, 1948.

He told newsmen at a conference prior to starting on a western tour to determine his presidential possibilities that he and congress were not sufficiently advised on the foreign situation

"It will be Oct. 15 before we have a complete report on the European conference and the report of Commerce Secretary W Averell Harriman on the available resources of this country, Taft said

"Not Before January"

"A meeting will then be necessary of the committee on foreign relief I don't think they will be ready to report before January"

He declared that the British still have 'quite a bit of reserves' but naturally would like to know what relief to expect from the United States

"A lot can still be done without congressional action," Taft said.

The chairman of the powerful senate G O P policy committee defended the Taft-Hartley labor bill and said he did not believe labor leaders could build up a strong case again it

'Most provisions of the law offend labor leaders but not the members whom they protect," Taft said.

Expects Busy Session

Taft said that before congress meets in January Republican leaders would have to make up a program giving priority to the necessary items He expected a busy session

The Republican congress will have to take some action on public housing during the coming session but may accept a modified form of the housing bill which failed to pass in the recent session, he said.

General tax reduction will be one of the main items which must be considered in the next congress, Taft states Other measures he mentioned as important included health legislation, the British loan, reciprocal trade treaties and universal military training

Rising prices will be discussed by the undeclared contender for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination at a meeting of the Commonwealth club in San Francisco on Aug 19 He will return to Cincinnati from his tour of the west on Oct. 4.

Confers with Party

Taft conferred here today with Ohio Republican leaders prior to leaving tonight for Chicago

He planned to meet some time during the day with Congressman Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio), National Committeewoman Katharine Kennedy Brown and State Chairman Fred Johnson.

Taft left Murray bay, Canada, last week by train and will make the first speech on his tour Friday night at Santa Cruz, Calif. He will address the California Bar association on states' rights and labor laws

Taft has been endorsed as the G.O.P. candidate in 1948 by the Ohio Republican organization. But he said he would wait until his western swing has been completed before deciding if he will fight for the nomination.

If he is satisfied with his re-

TRUMAN HEADS HOME ABOARD BATTLESHIP

By The Associated Press

ABOARD U. S. S MISSOURI WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, Sept. 8 — President Truman is homeward bound aboard the "Mighty Mo" today.

Heartened by the reception accorded him on his good will mission to Brazil and by the signing of the hemispheric defense treaty which he flew 5,200 miles to help dramatize, the Chief Executive is the picture of a man at peace with the world.

Allowing himself 13 days afloat, Mr. Truman plainly indicated he considered no developments either at home or abroad urgent enough to require a speedier return to the White House.

This battleship's high speed radio-telephone and teletype communications system keeps the President in continuous contact with Washington.

While visits to both San Juan, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin islands had been considered possibilities for this voyage, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen Mr. Truman has decided to make special trips to those points later.

The plan now is to proceed directly to Norfolk, Va., with no stops.

This famous battleship on which the Japanese surrender was signed, and its two-destroyer escort, the dias and the small, have been designated "task force 84."

AFL LEADERS MEET TO MAP NLRB PLANS

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 — AFL President William Green said today he would recommend that all officers of the AFL sign non-Communist affidavits in order to use facilities of the national labor relations board under the Taft-Hartley act.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 8—The AFL's top policy-makers assembled today for a far-reaching decision on whether to ignore the national labor relations board or to sign required affidavits swearing they are not Communists.

If a single member of the council—John L. Lewis for example—refuses to sign the affidavits, the services and facilities of the NLRB will be denied to all AFL unions under a requirement of the Taft-Hartley labor act.

NLRB General Counsel Robert N. Denham has interpreted the act to mean that all officers of the AFL and CIO must sign the non-Communist declaration in order to give affiliated unions standing before the board. This is important to the weaker unions in the AFL and CIO, who are constantly seeking more members and need the board's certification as bargaining representative for groups of workers in order to build an organization.

The CIO vice-presidents met in Pittsburgh last week and blasted Denham's ruling, but put off the big decision until the CIO convention in Boston, beginning Oct. 13.

Some of the 14 active members of the AFL's executive council are among organized labor's most outspoken foes of Communism. But privately they say they object to being singled out to swear they are not affiliated with any organization advocating the overthrow of the U. S. government, as required by the Taft-Hartley act

1,206 RESISTING JEWS LANDED

British Use Violence To Disembark Ship-Load Barred from Palestine.

By The Associated Press

HAMBURG, Germany, Sept 8—The British government landed today 1206 of the Exodus 1947 Jews it barred from Palestine but only after soldiers had clubbed or flailed scores who resisted a loudspeaker invitation to step peacefully onto German soil.

Cries of "this is Hitlerism" came from the Jews as they boarded trains which carried them to the Poppendorf detention camp for future disposition according to nationality.

The Jews disembarked today were from the transport Ocean Vigour. One of three ships on which Britain returned the refugees from Palestine after overtaking their uncertified immigration ship, The Exodus 1947. They have been at sea virtually ever since they left France for Palestine July 10 The two remaining transports are due to unload tomorrow and Wednesday.

Violence Comes Slowly

The disembarking began peacefully at 6 20 a m For almost three hours there was no visible sign of violence while refugees moved down the gangplank bearded men, boys, women, and slim young girls came ashore, some of them helped by beleted soldiers carrying luggage The loudspeaker system played jazz—"Saturday Night Is the Loneliest Night in the Week," and other tunes.

There was some trouble below decks, however, and around 9 a. m. this became apparent to reporters held back at dockside vantage points. Recalcitrant men, women and children were dragged and pushed down the gangplank by soldiers wielding clubs and rubber truncheons, or "smackers."

In full view of the correspondents, troops beat the resisting Jews Many refugees flailed their arms and shouted defiance as they were dumped on the dock, and, and removed to the Poppendorf train There were cries against being forced to come to this land, which is a bloody graveyard of millions of Jews '

Resort To Truncheons

Two reporters permitted by the British to go aboard the Ocean Vigour said the Jews began demonstrations when operations started in the second hold, with manying singing and putting up strong resistance. Some girls spat at the soldiers, and a period of bedlam ensued The troops first tried to move the Jews' leaders by pushing, a London reporter said, but then resorted to truncheons

The first train reaching Poppendorf carried 600 or 700 Jews and was unloaded there without incident, but a British official said some of the Jews had torn iron bars from train windows.

Trucks carried the refugees from the Kurchnitz station, half a mile from the camp Barbed wire entanglements ringed the station. Troops supervising the unloading wore the "Desert Rat" emblem of the Seventh armored division.

Several ailing refugees, including a woman nine months pregnant, were driven to the camp in ambulances, attended by army doctors and nurses.

About 2,100 Jews remain aboard the two transports still to be unloaded here. The Ocean Vigour debarkation originally was scheduled for yesterday, but fog delayed operations.

fe Buys New Frock and Long rt Foe Deserts To Enemy

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

United Press Staff Correspondent

NGTON, Sept. 8—My bride came home wearing an em- pression and a new-style dress. Poor gal.

was a black satin job, with a ruffly business down the of cloth something like knots in the region of the hips.

She wore it with kings, high-heeled a trick black hat I to describe. She erent, all right. is truth. I thought ked pretty doggone she stood, apologiz- he knew she looked her lip. Stared in the ered to take her new to the store if I be- looked like (her word) husbands, I was honest I told her it was one of dresses she'd ever bought, kissed her on the nose, put my arm around her shoulders and—hey!—a miracle happened.

That was woman I felt under the satin; not sponge rubber or quilted horse hair. No shoulder pads.

This was a pleasant shock. Almost as long as I can remember her shoulders have felt like a stuffed elk's. And looked like they belonged on the Notre Dame backfield. If this style catches on, gentlemen, it's going to be a pleasure to put your arms around your wives.

So I gave Mrs. O. a final squeeze. Her eyes lit up and she walked confidently out of the room. She said she had to practice holding her breath on account of her new waistline. Women are wonderful.

All this is by way of introduction to the apologies I must make to the dress designers and their agents, the department stores. When these new styles were announced a while back I wrote some bitter, brutal pieces about 'em. I snarled in print, suspected a Parisian plot against my pocketbook, and said long skirts were useful only for wrapping nooses around their makers' necks.

How Wrong He Was

The evidence at my own house indicates how wrong I was, or perhaps how cockeyed were the pictures in the fashion magazines. Other ignoramuses like myself also have been denouncing the new styles. Women around the country have been organizing short skirt clubs. In Hollywood they went still further, of course, by parading in bathing suits to prove they needed no artificial padding around the hips. This had its effect on the dress business, which has fallen off alarmingly in many shops.

Many a woman has been frightened of the new styles—and if my fashion model is any criterion—of her husband when she wears them home. This has caused stores across the land to take full-page ads pointing out that no woman need wear a bustle unless she wants to, or hems around her ankles either.

The actual clothes prove simply that skirts are a little longer than they were last year, that the ladies inside of 'em look a little rounder, and that the world isn't going to end. The scenery is different, but as handsome as ever.

I'm sorry for what I called you, dressmakers. Department stores, please accept the apolozies of a customer's satisfied husband.

EYE APPEAL. Made to complement the clothes milady's wearing, these new eye-glass frames are of translucent plastic that incorporates actual fabric. The plaid material here can be worn with a solid color dress or teamed up with togs in matching plaid designs.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Heart Trouble

Because of the greater attention being given by medicine to coronary thrombosis and angina pectoris, the average man is hearing a great many references to them. And yet, beyond realizing that both have to do with the heart, he really knows very little of either.

In both disorders, the heart is deprived to a greater or lesser extent of its blood supply by something that happens in the coronary arteries, which are the arteries that carry blood to the heart. That something is very different, however, in the two ailments.

In angina pectoris we suppose that the arteries which supply the heart with blood suddenly constrict and go into spasm. Naturally the blood flow to the heart is reduced and at the same time there is an agonizing attack of pain, starting beneath the breast bone and radiating out over the left shoulder and down the arm. Usually, the spasm in the arteries lasts for no more than a few moments and the pain is just as fleeting. Because the blood supply to the heart is renewed so quickly, its cells rarely suffer much damage in such attacks.

When it comes to coronary thrombosis, however, the picture is different. Here a clot forms in one of the coronary arteries and acts as a plug to shut off the flow of blood to this or that part of the heart. In these cases there is likely to be actual damage or even death of some of the heart tissue. Thus pain, just as severe as that in angina, also persists for hours or even days.

In considering the treatment of coronary thrombosis, the treatment of angina pectoris must also be borne in mind since the two disorders are so closely related and, in some cases, angina may be the forerunner of coronary thrombosis.

In the treatment of angina, the aim is to hold spasm of the arteries to a minimum and to keep circulation to the heart at a maximum. In this, three things are important—work, worry and the weather. Work or physical effort, worry and nervous tension, and cold weather with strong winds are all to be avoided because all may be factors in bringing on attacks.

The treatment of coronary thrombosis must be directed toward relieving the agonizing pain in the chest and relaxing blood-vessel spasm. Morphine apparently is the best drug for the pain, and of course it must be prescribed by a physician.

Another drug known as aminophyllin may be given by injection into a vein, and repeated the following day. This drug relieves blood-vessel spasm.

Still a third drug, atropine, may be given with the morphine to relieve the irritability of the heart.

Since an attack of coronary thrombosis damages the heart, rest in bed for at least three weeks is necessary so that healing may take place. At the end of the fourth week, the patient may be allowed to be up in a chair for a short period of time each day.

A diet supplying about 1200 calories a day is employed, and a preparation of mineral oil is used to insure soft bowel movements, which will avoid straining.

Because these patients are worried about their condition, the less treatment in the form of injections, the better the patient progresses, and the less he frets about his disorder.

The breathing of oxygen may be helpful in many instances to make breathing easier and lessen irritability and pain. One of the best methods of giving the oxygen is through a tube passed into the nose. If the patient can relax in an oxygen tent, one may be employed.

In no disease is the cooperation of the patient more necessary than in coronary thrombosis. Thus, when he leaves the hospital, his doctor explains to him that he must not engage in any activity that will put a strain on his heart. Whenever he feels himself beginning to tire, he will stop whatever he is doing at once. Then, too, he may be advised to use no tobacco for a year and to return to light work only in four to six months.

He is also warned to avoid cold weather, nervous tension and weight gain. Many patients who are willing to follow such instructions faithfully enjoy many years of good health.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Y. M.: Has scalp ever been grafted on a bald head and produced hair on it?

Answer: A plastic operation to produce growth of hair on the scalp is not practical as a general rule.

What's happened to Typhoid?

Today typhoid is so rare that doctors have a hard time finding enough cases in hospitals to instruct their medical students.

This conquest of typhoid and other water-borne diseases is the result of the great achievements of sanitary science in our century, and of the vigilance of water works specialists.

In your water plant the technicians and operators constantly work together to assure you of a water supply which is absolutely free of harmful germs.

This protection to you and your children has helped make the dread words "typhoid epidemic" a thing of the past.

Bandit Trio Torture Pair

Cleveland Race Track Operator, Wife Forced To Hand Over $15,000.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept 8—Police hunted today for three men who they said, tortured a race track operator and his wife by pressing lighted cigarets to their flesh, then drove off with $15 000 in cash

Wearing masks and carrying pistols, the men first beat and kicked the operator, Henry Green 51 in his home in an attempt to find out where the money was police said.

But after getting no answer by pressing a lighted cigaret end to his stomach, Green said they burned his wife on the leg and arm before he told them

Bandits Find Money

By that time the police report went on, one of the men had discovered the money stuffed in a shoe box, and they quickly drove off in Green's new Cadillac, leaving behind this warning "If you call police we'll come back and kill you"

Green, his wife, Elizabeth, 42, and his sister, Mrs. Sante Stochner, 75 were bound and gagged before they left, police declared

The car was found yesterday afternoon on a street in the same city, suburban Shaker Heights, and police said they had no trace of the trio

Green is a co-operator of race track pari-mutuels at Ascot park, Akron, and Beulah park, Columbus, and his wife said the money was for deposit in an Akron bank He planned to go to Columbus today to prepare for the Beulah opening

Wife Tells Story

Mrs Green told this story

The trio accosted her as she was about to drive into the garage forced her into the house and pulled down the window shades Two went upstairs and returned with Green and Mrs Stochner, who were in bed

"They kept asking us where the safe was and making threats of bodily harm unless we told them Mrs Green related "The leader asked us what time the children were coming home, telling us they knew all about our family

The Greens' daughter, Dollie 18 and son, Robert 23 were out for the evening and had not returned home

WAR TRIALS LAWYER TALKS

Miss Catherine Falvey of Boston Addresses Democratic Women of County.

Women have a most important role in the coming election, Miss Catherine E Falvey, former member of Justice Jackson's staff at the Nuernberg trials of Nazi war criminals, told members of the Women's division of the Marion County Democratic club and their guests, Sunday afternoon, at the home of Mr and Mrs Harry Armstrong at LaRue The occasion was a tea given by the Women's Division and attended by approximately 100 members and guests at the Armstrong home

She emphasized the importance of women taking an interest in the government of the country since there are more than 1,700,000 more women voters than men and added that all citizens should register and vote "After all" she said, the war was fought to preserve our democratic form of government which can only be preserved by the vote of all citizens"

There is too much suffering in the world today for anyone to neglect their duty as citizens, Miss Falvey told her audience "We can not return to isolationism when danger of another war appears," she declared, adding that an atomic war will be war to end all wars and civilization

Offers Proof

For first hand proof of this country's danger in World War II Miss Falvey referred to the Nuernberg trial "I heard Goering testify at Nuernberg that had Hitler given him the materials when he wanted them he would have had bombs with sufficient range and intensity to blow up New York Washington, Philadelphia Savannah and Boston. This he said, he would have done if Hitler had not given the material to Keitel for the foot soldiers Then, he went on to say, they, the Germans would not have lost the war"

Turning to the political picture Miss Falvey emphasized that people should be aware of the conduct of its public office holders and be familiar with the conduct of the eighth congress She criticized the attitude of the Republican party and said one of the outstanding ironical activities of the party is the attempt to undermine the executive branch of the government and usurp the executive powers in the administration of the Taft-Hartley Act

State Leader Here

Accompanying Miss Falvey, who is a Boston attorney, a former member of the Massachusetts legislature, and also WAC staff director of the European theater was Mrs Mary George Watkins of Kent, president of the state Federation of Democratic Women, who gave an informal talk Completing the program was a piano number by Mrs A. L. Kessler of Marion, and vocal selections by Miss Margaret Ann Sager of LaRue Mrs Armstrong, president of the Marion County Democratic Women's club, presided

Mrs Watkins and Mrs George Raub of LaRue, presided at the table during the social hour

Miss Falvey, who is a speaker for the national Democratic committee, and Mrs Watkins, were overnight guests at the Armstrong home and today were honor guests at a luncheon given by a group of Democratic women at Hotel Harding They will go from here to Lima to attend a meeting of Democratic women of the Central district Miss Falvey is on a speaking tour and will visit a number of cities in Ohio

Landlady in Georgia Begins Fast To Get Rent Control Relief

By The Associated Press

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 8 — With the avowed purpose of fasting until she gets relief from federal rent agencies, a 73-year-old landlady took to her bed last Thursday and has eaten nothing since, neighbors reported.

Mrs Anna E Boyer, said she intended to fast to the death, if necessary, to gain recognition of her plight in which she says her outgo is greater than her income The latter, she told reporters yesterday, is not enough to buy food, particularly at present day prices

When interviewed in her bed in a meagerly furnished cubbyhole on the second floor of her house Mrs. Boyer said, "Me and Gandhi I just hope I die before my bones stick out like his"

She also observed, "Man's inhumanity to man grows greater . . . I am not eligible under the Marshall plan for Europe, I'm just a forgotten American"

Mrs Boyer said she bought the house with the last of the money left her by her husband and that rent officials permitted her to rent a four-room basement apartment with bath for $9 50 a month a first, floor, five-room apartment with bath for $15 monthly and a similar, second floor apartment for $10

Her expenses, she said, are $28 13 monthly for mortgage payments, $8 80 monthly on a bank loan; $2 75 to $5 per water, $16 annually for insurance, $35 annually for county taxes, and $45 annually for city taxes

Except for a little food she said she has spent nothing on herself in the past two years except to "buy two cheap pairs of shoes and a dress. I made the dress myself"

Rent officials could not be reached immediately for comment

…timers at the Capitol say it …unusual for a full committee to undertake such a journey. It's in line with currently expressed opinions that congressmen need to know firsthand what is going on in the world.

The trip begins Sept. 15 when the committee leaves in an Army plane for Ogdensburg, N. Y., for an inspection of the long-debated St. Lawrence seaway project. The members later will go to Montreal for talks with Canadian officials, thence to Detroit and other Great Lakes points.

McGregor cooperated with the Army engineers and Chairman Dondero (R-Mich) of the committee in preparing the long itinerary. From Detroit, the congressmen will go to Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Portland, San Diego, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

With his colleagues, McGregor will fly from Los Angeles to Hawaii for an inspection of harbors and other public works. The return to the mainland will be by boat.

There was a time when there was considerable criticism of congressmen who spent adjournment periods traveling. But most members have gotten around to the decision that the law-makers need to see for themselves what the country needs rather than to depend solely on secondhand information.

For example, Rep. Frances Bolton of Cleveland suggests that traveling is part of the job of law-making. She reasoned in a statement:

"Sometimes I hear a few pungent words about congressmen and their 'junkets,' their easy lives, their leisurely holidays. It used to rile me a bit—but I have long since learned not to waste my energies so foolishly. I suppose it is rather to be expected that the average person should have very little realization of what a 365-day year it really is.

"As a matter of fact, I should imagine that a very small number of either house is taking more than two or three weeks vacation. Some of the men, especially the professional men, have to get back home and earn and keep their law, dental, doctor's, veterinarian's or whatever office before the community with a view to the day when they'll no longer be going to Washington.

"This, however, becomes a secondary thing if their committee sends them out for information. And many committees work practically the year round."

Mrs. Bolton is a member of the house foreign affairs committee which is undertaking a number of worldwide studies of problems on which decisions will have to be made during the next year.

The Army engineers are spending about $10,000,000 for flood control in Ohio during this fiscal year. The fund is part of a $502,000,000 appropriation for flood control and navigation described by Lt. Gen. R. A. Wheeler, chief of engineers, as marking the resumption of flood control work on a peacetime scale.

The bulk of such work was suspended during the war to conserve critical materials and manpower.

The new flood control fund, General Wheeler said, "will make possible the most concerted progress to provide the American people with this greatly needed type of protection in the 10 years since flood control generally was accepted as a federal responsibility."

As finally budgeted by the engineers, the Ohio fund is to be spent this way:

Burr Oak reservoir $600,000; Cincinnati $1,000,000; Delaware reservoir $3,200,000; Dillon reservoir $2,000,000; Portsmouth-New Boston $2,000,000; West Fork Mill creek reservoir $500,000.

Prop Busters Club, To Sponsor Air Meet, Member of U. S. Group

Sunday, Sept. 14, the Marion Prop Busters and the Y's Men's Service club are staging a regional model airplane meet at the Marion Municipal airport. The contests are expected to draw several hundred contestants from Ohio and adjacent states and will represent the first large scale meet to be held by the local model airplane group.

Early in 1946 the club received its charter as the Marion Prop Busters from the Academy of Model Aeronautics, which is the governing body for model aviation in America. The 37 members ranging in age from 14 to 45 have for the last two years flown every week, weather permitting, at the home port located at the R. D. Blank farm on Barks road, just south of Marion.

Mr. Blank, who has been appointed contest director for the Sept. 14 meet by the A. M. A., is largely responsible for the success of the group and acts as advisor to the club. His activities are by no means limited to an advisory capacity, as he builds and flies all types of model planes and was the only club member to fly in the national meet held last month at Minneapolis.

Local Competition

The local fliers compete among themselves and accumulate points during the year. At the close of the season the points are totaled and trophies are presented to the three members boasting the highest scores. Points are given for the lengths of time planes remain in the air, for proper execution of precision and stunt flying techniques, and for the speeds obtained by gas engine models.

Mr. Blank reports that speeds of 82 miles per hour have been reached by Class II planes whose engine displacements are not more than .20 cubic inches, and that Class VI models displacing between .50 to .65 cubic inches have flown in excess of 100 miles per hour. Such engines develop between 1/5 to 3/4 horsepower.

Many "out of sight" flights have been recorded in free flight flying by gas engine models, rubber powered planes and gliders. Several flights of seven minute duration have been obtained with hand launched gliders which, according to Blank, bear little resemblance to the 10-cent store type which can be assembled within a few minutes. The gliders flown by the Prop Busters are rigidly cemented into one piece and are streamlined to the "nth" degree. A special finish gives them a glass-like surface which greatly reduces air resistance. It is maintained that an expert can hand-launch a glider so that its initial speed is more than 100 miles per hour and that, if properly designed, a sustained speed of 60 miles per hour throughout the flight can be obtained.

Lists Objectives

Mr. Blank states that the objectives of the Prop Busters club are three-fold: to promote the furtherance of model aviation which in turn trains men and boys for full-time jobs in aviation; to aid in preventing juvenile delinquency; and to provide a worthwhile hobby to persons interested in precision construction and flying. He also mentions that additional members will be welcome and that the experienced modelers in the group will be glad to aid and advise newcomers.

This Should Be Worth Hearing

SENATOR TAFT is starting that western trip this week to find out if he has a chance to knock off the Republican presidential nomination next summer. We wouldn't know any more about that than he does at the moment, but this trip will be worth watching.

This is a guess that he will pull one of the sensations of the century by answering all questions and refusing to dodge the issue his enemies will throw at him in the hope of busting him wide open. Chief among the enemies, of course will be CIO-PAC spokesmen who have been doing their nastiest for years to smear him because he's the man in congress they fear most in their drive to get class warfare popping in the United States.

Taft's Sunday suit in the senate has been his willingness to take on all comers in any kind of discussion and tie them in knots. Sympathy is extended herewith to the fellows who are going to argue with him amout the Taft-Hartley act, among other things. It being said that the West is tired of politicians who talk out of both sides of their mouth at once, which should make an ideal setting for a senator who has made his reputation by talking out of the middle only.

Watch Taft. This may be more fun than Johnny Meyer's expense account.

Thankul for Small Favors

IT ISN'T easy to look on the bright side of economics—in fact it isn't even easy to know right now where the bright side is—but . . .

There are some businessmen trying to keep prices as low as possible, instead of charging up to the hilt and being first to reach for the crying towel when the bubble bursts;

Some service employes who will knock themselves out to do a workmanlike job and if the customer wants a little something extra done for his accommodation will grin and tell him he doesn't owe them anything for it;

Some upholders of the free-enterprise ideal who recognize it isn't worth a whoop without the same kind of self-restraint that keeps democracy from turning into mobocracy with the devil taking the hindmost;

Some beneficiaries of the profit system who'd rather be satisfied with a little less today in the prospect of passing along the system in reasonably healthy condition to the rising generation;

Some products that could be jacked up in price but can still be bought for approximately what they'll be worth when the price balloon that went up eventually comes down;

Some citizens of the United States who go out of their way looking for things they can do to keep from adding to the economic fears and misgivings of those who are being whipsawed by inflation;

And a country to live in so firmly-based and so innately bountiful that all the things it can be damaged by do no more than make a slight dent in its confidence and cast only a fleeting doubt over the people's certainty that everything is going to turn out all right eventually.

Free Parking Upstairs

A NEW trend in business district construction materializes with the opening of the Macy store in Jamaica, N. Y. The building's roof is a parking lot.

American cities have downtown parking troubles because their office buildings, theaters and stores were constructed without a thought of accomodating the cars of the people who use them. Not much can be done about it now, except as old buildings are replaced. Outlying business establishments advertise "Plenty of Parking Space" as one of their principal selling points.

The day is here when no commercial building should go up in America without due consideration for the parking problem it sets up.

Have an Isotope

ISOTOPE was a word with which the average reader was only vaguely familiar. He may have come across it in scientific articles or possibly he recalled it from his school days, along with ergs, British thermal units and the dew point.

But now isotopes are front page news. We have just approved the export of radioactive isotopes so that the world may have them for research. Radioactive isotopes make it possible for pathologists to conduct minute studies of most of mankind's diseases. By using Geiger counters, they can trace radioactive isotopes through the bodys, ascertaining their rate of excretion or retention. Canada has asked for isotopes to be used in agricultural research, especially on how plants get nitrogen from the soil.

Isotopes may be the biggest thing since vitamins, even bigger than breakfast food shot from guns.

General Marshall Revises Diplomatic Tactics.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—The flying diplomacy of State Secretary Marshall is bringing an untrumpeted sort of one-world statesmanship to foreign affairs. A military mind generally believes a straight line is the shortest distance between two points, whereas a diplomat customarily starts off on a tack to the left or right and indeed may back up to fill. Marshall is thus revising the old Byrnes-Roosevelt formulas, not so much in policy, but completely in tactics. And his primary technique is to count less on the transoceanic telephone, radio and cable to our ambassadors, but in important cases, to dispatch a personal emissary by air to Greece, Paris, Rome or China to meet the diplomatic demands of an atomo-Russo era.

It is all being done rather quietly.

Overthrow of the Greek cabinet was mildly hailed with satisfaction in official publicity here. For instance, Messrs. Truman and Marshall thought the Greek government would be in better position to resist the Communist threat there if its old heavily rightist reactionary government crew was liberalized. But the new Premier Tsaldaris did not catch the full idea at all. His reformation did not go very far toward a center regime, but leaned heavily reactionary, and in fact, his change initially represented only the discarding of the most prominent extreme right member of the old cabinet.

Sent On Errand

So Loy Henderson was dispatched from the state department by air on what was supposed to be a private mission. Through him the administration obviously attempted to have Tsaldaris take as much wind from the commie sails as possible by trending its new cabinet to a little left of left of center.

When the Paris conference of needy nations started planning to demand $29,000,000,000 from us in four years, the state department did not issue statements, make speeches or get the ambassador on the phone. The Marshall policy worker, George Kennan, was sent over quietly by air, and he got Will Clayton and other American officials into a conference and worked the publicity on our viewpoint from there, letting the Europeans know first-hand the problem of the administration to wring money and concessions from the Republican congress and the primary necessity of self-help by Europe.

Myron Taylor was dispatched to the Vatican, although he traveled somewhat more leisurely through London and Paris, no doubt picking up economic data concerning the perilous necessity of maintaining Europe against Communist inboring. His purposes were never announced, and the administration half feared criticism from some Protestant sects. This was not forthcoming, probably because all church contacts were privately informed semi-officially that Taylor was merely trying to rally all church groups to unity against the Communist threat. His health is not good. He may not remain long.

Other Examples

Personal contact was tried in place of the usual diplomatic channels also when Marshall sent Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer to China on a personal mission. The Chinese recognized that he was the personal emissary of Marshall and granted his recent statement recognition as the latest official proclamation.

Thus, in a way, Marshall is taking at least a portion of the Willkie concept in developing his regime. Of course, he and Mr. Truman both flew to Petropolis, and while there is nothing particularly new in that gesture, the whole scene of diplomats flying around the world on contact missions was accentuated thereby.

This kind of speed and direction must make the Russians feel grounded.

A Born Collector

A Georgia county has elected a woman tax collector.

May the Lord have mercy on delinquents.

She will clean up that digest as easily as she does her living room.

Women are born collectors. Their first words are "Get the Money." A man may take excuses, but a woman will accept only currency.

A female tax collector will foreclose faster than the villain in a one-act play. The citizen who dubbed women "the weaker sex" never owed one any money.

Yes sir, anyone who thinks he cen get around a woman tax collector will find his furniture on the courthouse steps.

In fact, I wouldn't be surprised to see women take over the job of tax collecting altogether in the next few years. Most citizens would rush to pay their assessments if only to avoid the embarrassment of having a lady tax collector pass the word along to the rest of the girls.

One View of Britain's Crisis

Newspaper Blames Defensive Attitude of Workers.

BRITAIN'S economic crisis, a chance for some American commentators to blast the British government and for others to blast their own government for not doing more about it is a challenge to English commentators to do some of the most earnest thinking since the Battle of Britain.

The Observer, foremost British Sunday paper, warned against panic in its Aug. 3 edition. It quotes from a special article in the same edition declaring that the British cannot save themselves by independent effort; that there must be economic integration of western Europe and new schemes to stimulate production.

"We have first to pull our weight," the Observer believes. "Some critics of the government believe we never shall unless we revive the old whips and spurs—unemployment, poverty, insecurity of jobs. Human nature, they contend, never changes; and because socialism ignores this it is bound to fail."

The Observer denies that human nature never changes. It points to a circumstance noted by numerous foreign "observers" that the British have passed the point in their economic evolution where they begin to pass from unrestrained competition into cooperation. They do not intend to go back to "whips and spurs."

"It is partly as a reaction and defense against the ruthlessness of 'laissez faire' competition that socialism, with its emphasis on cooperation, has gained strength," asserts the newspaper. "One great weakness of socialism is that it has not yet found ways of making cooperation a creative rather than a defensive force."

"The traditions of trade unionism illustrates this," continues the Observer. "The unions were found as defensive organizations; the workers united to aid and protect one another against the harsh demands of capitalism and the precariousness of the livelihood it offered. Under present conditions, with a Labor government in power, this defensive attitude is out of date; but it persists. It is shown not only in restrictive rules and practices but in a frequent reluctance to work too hard, or harder than the next man, lest the work run out, or the other man be deprived of a job. It may even extend to a feeling that any kind of competition is unfriendly and unfair . . .

"Competition is most fruitful when men are not competing against one another but with one another—as team members who will all share in the pleasures and rewards of achievement. This kind of competition is a powerful and healthy stimulus; how can we make use of it in modern industry?"

Building Material Is Really Short

By The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — There's a mystery here — the county courthouse's cornerstone is lost.

Newspaper files show that on Aug. 12, 1871, there was a cornerstone laying ceremony with sealing in of the usual papers and charters.

But the San Diego Trubune-Sun now discovers that the stone has disappeared, possibly long since. The best guess is that it was "sealed in" itself by one of the several jobs of remodeling and adding to the venerable structure.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The trend of the times is uncertain . . . In Illinois a judge says one in two marriages is headed for divorce and in Alabama a judge fines a man for kissing his wife on the street.

What is a man to do when the divorce court will get him if he doesn't kiss his wife and the police court will get him if he does?

All that we can expect is that when the judge says, "Who was that lady I saw you kissing with last night?" The defendant will answer, "A complete stranger."

Somebody says, "How can you tell that it's a man's wife he's kissing?" The best testimony on the subject is "Take a blood count . . . If his red corpuscles are sleeping it is."

But at least the trend is running off with baby sitters has halted . . . Mothers began to insist that the elopers also take the baby.

Still when you look around, you see many men and women who have been married for years and years . . . Some to each other.

Truman and His Troubles

By STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—When President Truman returns from his cruise on the battleship Missouri, he will find himself somewhat in the position of a man stalking an enraged wild bull elephant, while at the same time being unmercifully bitten by a swarm of mosquitoes. As President of the United States he will be confronted with the vast issues of the world crisis. At the same time, as leader of the Democratic party, he will be faced with the irksome but unavoidable necessity of trying to glue together some sort of solid political base for 1948.

(Joseph Alsop is in Europe and will be sending dispatches from there shortly. Meanwhile Stewart Alsop covers Washington.)

He will not have an easy job. His nostrils will be assailed by the smell of decay in the local Democratic organizations almost everywhere.

In New York the regular organization has been unable to recover from the terrible wounds in flicted upon it last year by Governor Thomas E. Dewey. The left and labor groups which supported Roosevelt are splintered in every direction. In addition, the most powerful Democratic public figure in the state, former Governor Herbert Lehman, is known to be angry at Truman. This may be in part because Truman disappointed Lehman by failing to appoint him American representative on UNESCO, after Senator Arthur Vandenberg blocked Francis Biddle for the job.

Blast Threatened

At any rate, Lehman has threatened to issue a loud blast at the President for not having taken a stronger stand on the Palestine issue. Such a blast could have a disastrous effect on the already unhappy Democratic prospect in New York; so disastrous indeed that Democratic state chairman Paul Fitzpatrick and former national chairman Ed Flynn have been detailed to pacify and somehow silence the aging Lehman.

In Pennsylvania the Democratic organization is split into Lawrence Montagues and Guffey Capulets. So bitter is this feud that it has induced a mutual paralysis: even traditionally Democratic York county is now in Republican hands down to the courthouse level. Another feud is in progress in Ohio, where the regular Democratic organization is at daggers drawn with the supporters of former Governor Frank J. Lausche. To make matters worse, Lausche threatens to run again at the first opportunity, thus splitting the party almost beyond hope of repair. And so it goes. In Massachusetts the Democrats are threatened by the unnatural kindness of the Republicans to jailed Democratic boss James M. Curley, who is expected to repay these courtesies. In California the great Pauley-Roosevelt-Kenney row is still in full swing. Finally, over the whole scene there is the shuddering vision of a Wallace-led third party. Wallace has been repudiated by all the important labor leaders. But he still seems tempted to lead a crusade consisting largely of the woolly-minded, the lunatic fringe and the Communists. There is little doubt that even such a job lot of Wallace votes could beat Truman.

Talk of Eisenhower

The bad case of nerves which this condition of near-chaos in the party has induced in the Democratic leaders can be deduced from the fact that some of them are talking seriously of drafting Chief of Staff Dwight D. Eisenhower as Truman's running mate in 1948. The idea is that Secretary of State George C. Marshall should somehow be hypnotized into somehow hypnotizing Eisenhower into taking the No. 2 spot.

This talk has something of the wistful quality of a small child boasting that he will get a million dollars for Christmas. More immediate and practical steps will be pressed on Truman by the Democratic satraps on his return. He will be urged to make a series of important speeches, in New York, Pennsylvania, California and elsewhere. Such a tour is hopefully expected to cancel out the effects of the Dewey and Taft junkets, ease the feuding within the party in these states, and raise the Truman prestige with the voters. As one of the Democratic chieftains put it: "That speech in Petropolis was okay, but how many of these Brazilians are registered voters?"

Yet before making any other political move, Truman must settle the row initiated by the impending resignation of Robert Hannegan as national Democratic chairman. The battle rages around the energetic and outspoken figure of Gael Sullivan, Hannegan's assistant and a candidate for the succession. The powerful faction of anti-Sullivanites includes most of the conservative Southern Democrats, plus the White House guard, Harry V. Vaughn, James K. Vardamann and John Steelman.

The anti-Sullivanites, who have the President's ear, have backed Agriculture Secretary Clinton Anderson, but it now appears probable that Anderson, who has his eye eyes firmly fixed on the vice presidential nomination, will sidestep the job if it is offered him. Another palace guard nominee has been Sam Jackson, a safe-and-sane Indiana politico, but Truman is believed to have received this suggestion coolly.

In the Sullivan corner are Hannegan, Attorney General Tom Clark, most of the Northern Democratic bosses like Paul Fitzpatrick, and all the labor leaders, whose champion in the Administration Sullivan has been. Both A. F. Whitney of the railway brotherhoods, whom Sullivan weaned away from Wallace, and the AFL's William Green have telegraphed the President strongly urging Sullivan's appointment.

Truman's decision will be interesting. If he chooses Sullivan, it will be a reasonably reliable indidation that he intends to continue the revived Democratic alliance with labor and the left. If not, it will show that he wants to mollify the powerful and increasingly restless conservative wing of the Democratic party. For Truman, it will be no easy choice.

Do the waves ever beat the shores of Rockaway Beach in the manner to which Hollywood photographers have become accustomed? Are there any superdooper baronial mansions around New York that haven't been leased to the Russians or Father Divine?

We pause for a reply and we are afraid we may get it.

Scenically New York must give way to the California area, but in one respect no [illegible] important in current pictures, despite [illegible] Johnston, New York is away ahead of it. Hollywood doesn't seem to be using [illegible] wholesome scenery or relying to any degree [illegible] the beauties of nature lately anyhow Plenty of things she is doing on the coast could be done better in the slums of a big city.

By the way, it doesn't seem to us that there are the noses to the grindstone that there used to be. Here and there in the treasury list of big income boys we noticed a fellow who began life as a nose-to-grindstone type but in each case he has become so allergic to the schnozzle-to-stone pattern that he shrieks for Chanel No. 5 when he gets a whiff of the smell of a [illegible] grindstone miles away.

Mmmmmmm

By TRUMAN TWILL

We have come across one of those newspaper attention-compellers — a picture of a cutie dressed in her birthday suit, sitting in a bathtub of pretzels. Congratulations to some press agent who figures out sharp angles on publicity pictures. We'll stay away from the pretzels for a long time to come, Mister.

How about a picture of the Atlantic City bathing beauty contest winner reclining in a bathtub filled with French-fried potatoes? We know just where to go to get perfect French fries for her to lie on—limp, cold ones that wouldn't leave the tiniest scratch on her tender skin.

Or maybe some toothy babe could be tempted with enough folding money in three-[illegible] sizes to flutter like a dying swan in a bathtub filled with engine oil, the top grade, naturally, the kind that is good for your bearings and makes your crankcase happy.

This happens to be roasting-ear season, so how about a dandy fake with the cutie pretending to be an ear of corn, buttered and salted to taste, and fixed up fancy with one of those corn holders coming out of her head and one coming out of her feet—mmmm.

After all, we have cuties ogling us from among apples, melons, peaches, pears, grapes, raspberries, and all manner of fruit, so why not show one pretending to be comfie in a bathtub filled with hot dogs? Or ice cream cones. You know, good enough to eat.

A first-rate attention compeller would be a near-naked fluffie lurking in a bathtub filled with railroad spikes, ingots, heavy-duty harness, pinking shears, light fiction, fruit juices and some of the other things that press agents commonly put in bathtubs.

If the big thing in publicity is to tempt the public to lok at foolishness and incidentally to notice THE PRODUCT, why not fill a bathtub with freshly-ground hamburger and have nothing but the top of the babe's head showing. Better yet, make it the top of the press agent's head. Better yet, make it both of them.

Then how about building a big fire under the bathtug and frying the hamburger with the near-naked dolly and the press agent inside it. Here, try a little ketchup on that, Willie. Lather it with mustard. Put down the lid of the bathtub and squeeze—hard. That's for lunkheads that think up silly ideas like taking pictures of near-naked women in bathtubfuls of pretzels.

Someone owes the pretzel eaters of this country an apology. Bathtubs are for bath water, which apparently is rated highly as a beverage by press agents.

first opened July 28

Dr. Ross, a youngish looking man about five feet eleven inches tall and weighing about 150 pounds, was present, tense but calm. He is married and has one daughter.

To Plead Insanity

Defense attorneys said they planned to base their case on a plea of insanity, and asked for a postponement in which to gather necessary evidence. The judge granted a 43-day delay.

Dr. Ross had been the York family physician for years, and said he had operated on all of the family. He and York had been close friends for years.

In recent months, however, Dr. Ross and York had financial difficulties. The young doctor, as a result, lost a fortune, estimated at over $121,000.

In March of this year Ross charged that York was indebted to him in stocks, bonds and securities for over $80,000 plus an additional $40,000 in money wrongfully pledged.

Broker Went Bankrupt

York was investigated by the securities and exchange commission, which revealed irregularities in his operations. The investment broker then took out bankruptcy.

The sequel was a tragedy that rocked this Germanic community of 10,000.

On May 25, the York family left their nearby Comal county ranch home and headed for church. Five were in the car.

As they rounded a sharp curve on the lonely lane a man carrying a rifle stepped from behind a parked car. He forced them to stop and almost immediately began shooting.

York and his wife were shot dead in the front seat. Those in the back seat attempted to flee. The boy was shot dead as he stepped from the car. The elder Mrs. York ran about 12 feet, and was shot in the back. Her body was found sprawled in the lane by officers.

Daughter Escapes

Ann, 13, was wounded in the hip but managed to escaped into some underbrush. She made her way to a caretaker's home and the alarm was spread after Sheriff W. A. Scholl was notified.

Four hours after the shooting, Dr. Ross walked into a San Antonio police station 31 miles away and told officers they could find a gun in his car. He did not amplify the statement.

He was arrested, and turned over to Sheriff Scholl. He was taken to New Braunfels, and placed in a third-floor cell of the Comal county jail. He has been held there since without bond.

During his term in jail, he has celebrated a birthday. He had cake, and friends to spend the day. The registration book shows that hundreds of visitors have come to see him. His wife, a striking looking brunette, has been an almost daily visitor.

Is Model Prisoner

Sheriff Scholl said he has been a model prisoner. He spends much of his time reading medical journals.

He was present in court, with his wife sitting nearby, when the trial first opened July 28. Neatly dressed, he was tense but calm. He followed proceedings closely, and seemed disappointed when a delay was sought and granted.

He has said he wants no change of venue, and wants the trial held here, as quickly as possible.

The defense will plead insanity, and has had several examinations made. Scores of doctors are named as witnesses.

Improvements Made in Schools

When pupils of the Marion public schools gathered in their respective buildings today many of them found rooms equipped with new lights, floors and other needed improvements in both the interiors and exteriors. The improvements are the result of a summer work schedule authorized by the city board of education as a part of the school improvement program.

Major repairs and improvements include the enlarged dressing room facilities for use of players and coaches at Harding stadium, the installation of a new heating system and complete rewiring and relighting of the Glenwood building; installation of a new wiring system and lights and replacement of the floor in the auditorium at Oakland building; complete rewiring and installation of lights and a new kitchen floor at Mary Street; installation of a new lighting system at Olney; new lighting and redecorating at North Main Street and Pearl Street.

At Edison Junior High school extensive repairs were made on the concrete walks and berm and at George Washington school the exterior steps were replaced with concrete. A concrete stairway replaced the old one at Vernon Heights and repairs were made to the exit from the auditorium and at Harding High school the West hall and library were redecorated and the old lockers were removed from the basement. The lockers will be replaced with new ones delivery on which is expected daily.

While this has been a full summer job the work is not completed, Supt. E. E. Holt said today. Installation of lighting fixtures will be made at Silver, Forest Lawn, Greenwood, Central rear and Vernon Heights buildings as soon as possible, he stated.

RUSS, POLES REJECT UN ATOMIC REPORT

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 8—Soviet Russia and Poland voted against a section of the second report of the United Nations atomic energy commission for the first time today but the section was approved by a majority of 10 delegates.

The opposition of the Polish and Soviet delegations had been expected but this was the first time the two delegates had formally voted against an atomic report. The vote was thus 10 to 2.

When the 12-nation commission's first report was approved last December Russia and Poland abstained. The vote was then 10 to 0.

The present vote was taken in the political committee of the atomic energy commission, which is winding up its consideration of the first draft of the second report to the security council. Russia and Poland were expected to go down the line against the other sections since both have attacked them in previous debate.

The first section, on the operational and developmental functions of a proposed international atomic control agency, was amended 17 times before final approval but the changes merely were technical. There were no Polish amendments on this section.

After the political committee acts, the working committee must approve the papers and the commission itself will meet Wednesday for final action.

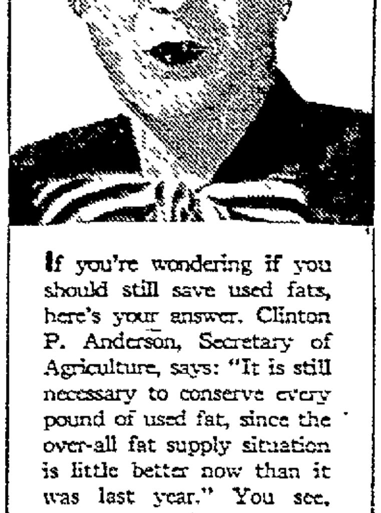
By all means, Yes! Save Used Fats!
says MYRNA JOHNSTON, Food Editor of Better Homes and Gardens


If you're wondering if you should still save used fats, here's your answer. Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, says: "It is still necessary to conserve every pound of used fat, since the over-all fat supply situation is little better now than it was last year." You see, almost everything we use requires industrial fats or their products. There just aren't enough fats in the world to go around, so every pound of used cooking fats we American women turn in is a real help! Let's keep up the good work till the world-wide shortage is over!

U.S.-RUSS RELATIONS SEEN GETTING WORSE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—Diplomatic officials predicted today American relations with Russia are likely to enter a new and rougher phase at the United Nations general assembly session opening in New York next week.

A whole series of dramatic developments heightening the Russo-American conflict and bearing vitally upon related problems of the European economic crisis are in prospect before and after Secretary of State Marshall leads the American delegation to the assembly meeting.

Foremost among these will be the Truman administration's decision on whether to call a special session of congress to consider a temporary aid fund for Europe. This would be an advance against the billions which the administration hopes congress will provide early next year for the long term Marshall recovery program.

State department experts gave up their weekend holiday to work on the latest facts and figures American officials brought back from the current Paris economic conference seeking to translate the mutual-help idea into concrete terms.

While it has not been emphasized in recent state department pronouncements on the subject, one of the main considerations in official thinking on the European situation is this: If the United States does not take some measures to help hard-pressed European countries exist until the Marshall plan can become effective, Russia will take advantage of the resulting political and social upheavals to push Communism aggressively in western Europe.

Thus the intense rivalry between the two great powers is one of the chief elements figuring in the locked [illegible] conference now under way. And it may become more [illegible] apparent in [illegible] events not directly related to the question of a special session.

90 ATTEND ARMY SECTIONAL RALLY

New Field Secretary Greets Workers from This Area.

Approximately 90 officers and soldiers of the Salvation Army from Findlay, Tiffin, Bucyrus, Lima and Marion attended a sectional rally held Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. Speaker for the evening was Lt. Col. Samuel Hepburn, who was making his first visit here as field secretary. He was accompanied by Brigadier Harold Zealley, divisional commander, and Mrs. Zealley of Cincinnati.

Col. Hepburn, in his talk, stressed the work of the Salvation Army and the officers and soldiers as individual salvationists. Each is an evangelist and personal worker, he said. Adjutant Mary Nisiewicz, who is in charge of the corps here, was in charge of the meeting and presiding for the program was Brigadier Zealley.

Music included selections by an instrumental quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. James Painter of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Dever Carr of Marion, and an instrumental solo by Mr. Painter.

As field secretary Col. Hepburn has the supervision of 362 corps and 1,700 field officers in 11 states including Ohio.

COP LOSES TICKETS

By The United Press

WICHITA, Kan.—Policemen at headquarters here were kept busy "fixing" traffic tickets the other day—at the direction of their superiors. After a patrolman lost a book of tickets near a ball park, dozens of motorists returned to their parked cars to find them tabbed. To the irate or just puzzled drivers who appeared at headquarters, police explained it was all a mistake, the result of a prankster, and tore up the tickets.

Akron CIO Local Decides To Abide By Taft-Hartley Act

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Sept. 8—A CIO local at Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. claimed to have set a new precedent in the rubber industry today by seeking settlement of a wage dispute through the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Heretofore, local unionists said, the act has been by-passed by United Rubber Worker officials, but President I. H. (Ike) Watson of Firestone local No. 7 declared his group had decided to try it out.

"We feel that even though we don't like the Taft-Hartley act," he said. "It still is the law of the land.

"Our local always has been strong against Communists. Our officials will be proud to sign the (non-Communist) affidavit."

The immediate cause of the move was a demand for a 12 cents hourly wage increase, Watson said, and was made despite new agreements at Goodyear and Goodrich.

Those contracts provided for straight time for six unworked holidays, but Watson asserted: "six paid holidays amount to only about 3½ cents an hour."

The Goodrich contract was signed Saturday in Cleveland.

Mrs. John Monk was general chairman for the sale and she was assisted by Mrs. R. M. Miller and the following team captains: Mrs. E. R. Bondley, Mrs. M. W. Byrnes and Mrs. Ray Anthony. All members of the auxiliary and a number of veterans of Marion Camp No. 32, assisted. Three thousand flowers were sold.

Cleveland Sees V. F. W. Parade

Vets of Both Wars Join in 6-Hour March Through City's Heart.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8—Youngsters of the recent World War and their older predecessors roll down Euclid avenue today in the annual Veterans of Foreign War parade, and officials said it might last six hours.

About 20,000 were expected to march the second last day of the V.F.W. encampment with some 60 drum corps and bands dispersed among the units.

But despite the lengthy parade, business sessions continued and one of the most important issues under consideration—housing—already has received committee action.

This was the report on the controversial Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, which the housing committee, after four days' study, finally approved—with a few amendments.

The most important qualification, reported Chairman James Murphy of Minneapolis, was that the program "be made available for private ownership not later than 15 years after passage of the act."

Some of the members, said Murphy (who lives with is family in a quonset hut), objected because they feared such a plan would be "a big step in the direction of socialized housing in America."

The resolution still requires rank-and-file approval.

Last night, the V.F.W.'s retiring commander, Louis E. Starr of Portland, Ore., asked President Truman in a radio talk to call a special congressional session to grant funds to rebuild the armed forces and mobilize the aircraft industry.

In line with Starr's call, the encampment committee on national security meets today, recommending passage of these resolutions:

►Adoption of military training.

►Setting up a plan for mobilization in event of an emergency.

►Return of atomic energy control to the military.

HOT WEATHER GRIPS LARGE AREA OF U.S.

By The Associated Press

Generally fair and hot weather covered most of the nation from the Rockies to just west of the Appalachians today, but cooler weather was in prospect in the northern plains states and was expected to move eastward tomorrow over the Great Lakes region.

Temperatures rose to 100 degrees or higher Sunday over all of Kansas, eastern Nebraska, western South Dakota, and at points in Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Missouri. Readings were in the 90s southward from southern Wisconsin, northern Iowa, southern North Dakota, and Wyoming.

High temperatures included 107 at Batesville, Ark., 106 at McAllester, Okla., and Clinton, Mo., 105 at Coffeyville, Kans., and 101 at Philip, S. D.

Ohio, with readings in the 80's yesterday, will get higher temperatures today, but the cool air from the northern plains should bring relief there by tomorrow night.

UN CHIEF CALLS FOR FREE USE OF FACTS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—Trygve Lie said today international understanding is impossible without a free exchange of facts.

The United Nations secretary-general was the principal speaker at the opening of the world statistical congress, one of seven allied organizations meeting here in the first international statistical conference since 1938.

Fifty-five nations are represented, but Russia is not.

Lie made no reference to the Soviet Union's failure to take part in the sessions but said in his prepared address "the task ahead will require the combined efforts of all countries and of all organizations."

"The free exchange of information on economic and social affairs among all the countries in the world is absolutely necessary to economic and social advancement," the UN official asserted. "We cannot cure our troubles unless we know in the first place what those troubles are.

"Likewise we canont achieve international understanding, which is the basis of advancement, unless the peoples of the world are given the facts about each other."

UN Group Asks Immediate Help For 250,000 Jews

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 8—The United Nations Palestine committee declared unanimously today that immediate help for 250,000 distressed European Jews would ease considerably the problem of the Holy Land.

The committee called on the UN assembly to do something for the Jews in the European assembly centers as a "vital prerequisite to the settlement of the difficult conditions in Palestine."

A committee majority of seven states recommended the partition of Palestine into Jewish and Arab states tied up in an economic union, the creation of the autonomous city of Jerusalem under US trusteeship, and the admission of 150,000 Jewish immigrants into Palestine in a two-year transitional period.

Canada, Czechoslovakia, Guatemala, The Netherlands, Peru, Sweden, and Uruguay made up the majority.

The committee formally recommended that the assembly "undertake immediately the initiation and execution of an international arrangement whereby the problem of the distressed European Jews, of whom approximately 250,000 are in assembly centers, will be dealt with as a matter of extreme urgency for the alleviation of their plight and of the Palestine problem."

Soil Conservation Experiment Heads To Review Plans

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., Sept. 8—The Licking county soil conservation district's project for the "opening of the second frontier" on farm lands near Brownsville, O., Oct. 2 will be given a final review by an advisory council, headed by Author Louis Bromfield, meeting in Columbus next Wednesday, it was announced today.

The project, described as the "first major face-lifting operation" of land in the state, will be viewed by Ohio farmers from a huge natural amphitheater along U. S. route 40, one-half mile west of Brownsville.

Pearl L. Fogle of the U. S. conservation service, will outline complete plans for the program at the advisory council's session opening at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday. Bromfield will report on nation-wide interest attracted by the project.

Wednesday afteroon, council members will go to Brownsville to inspect the John Rodman and George Latham farms which form the site of the event.

Plans call for a force of hundreds of volunteers using common farm tools and power equipment, working between sunrise and sunset, to convert 200 acres of land from old-style type farming to the modern conservation type.

The project calls for terracing, changing of the fence contour, pond building and laying out of contour strips to install and complete farm conservation plan.

RADIO EDITORIALIZING INVESTIGATION SET

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 — The federal communications commission announced today it will hold hearings here beginning Jan. 12 on what the national policy should be with respect to "editorializing" by radio broadcast stations.

The announcement said the FCC will:

►Determine whether the expression of editorial opinions by broadcast station licensees on matters of public interest and controversy is consistent with their obligation to operate their stations in the public interest.

►Determine the relationship between any such editorial expression and the affirmative obligation of the licensees to insure that a fair and equal presentation of all sides of controversial issues is made over their facilities."

The commission said it ordered the inquiry because of widespread discussion in the industry over "the exact meaning" of a 1941 FCC ruling which said in part:

"The broadcaster can not be an advocate."

It said some radio interests have expressed belief that broadcasting stations should have wider freedom of expression than that allowed in the 1941 ruling.

FAIRGROUND LIQUOR BAN COMES TO END

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Sept 8—The 91-year-old drouth around state and county fairs was at an end today

The law enacted by the 1947 legislature exempting present permit-holders from the old statute banning sale of liquor within two miles of a fair became effective

The statute was invoked in 1946 by the W C T U with the result that liquor establishments in the prescribed vicinity closed during the Ohio state fair and county fairs last year and this year

There are still 32 county and district fairs to be held in Ohio between now and Oct 18

The old law prohibited the sale of liquor within 1,200 yards of Columbus, Dayton, Athens and Toledo state hospitals, the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home and other orphans' homes, two miles of the Boys' Industrial School and an agricultural fair and a mile of county children homes.

The new law makes it mandatory the state liquor director hold a hearing before issuing a new permit for an establishment within 500 feet of a school, church, library or public playground and that officials of these institutions be notified of applications for a new permit before the hearing are held

Another new law effective today returns to municipalities and townships approximately $500,000 a year in cigaret dealers' license fee which the state has been retaining, and also gives local subdivisions three-fourth and the counties one-fourth of the fees collected. The state has been retaining half of the fees

A law setting up a maximum $300 fine for violation of building regulations in the unincorporated parts of a county also becomes effective today. Heretofore county building department could only enforce building regulations by injunction ception, he will become an avowed candidate. Only one other Republican—former Gov Harold Stassen of Minnesota—has formally announced his candidacy so far.

Dewey Blazed Trail

Gov Thomas E Dewey of New York, the 1944 G O P candidate recently made a similar tour through the west. Although he has not officially tossed his hat into the ring for 1948, Dewey is regarded as Taft's chief rival for the nomination at present

Taft's western trip will take him to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Reno, Nev Portland and Gernart, Ore, Seattle and Tacoma, Wash, Moscow and Boise, Ida, and Cheyenne and Casper, Wyo. He will also speak at Des Moines and Chicago

In his Tacoma speech, Taft will outline his views on foreign policy—a subject he left to Senate President Arthur H Vandenberg (R-Mich), during the regular session of congress

HOUSING GOT TIGHTER

By The United Press

CHICAGO—Thomas H. Wright, executive director of the mayor's commission on human relations, says Chicago's housing situation was worse at the end of 1946 than at the end of 1945. "It can be stated flatly that during 1946 we made no gains in conquering this problem or even alleviating it," Wright said. "The city actually lost more dwelling units through fire simple decay and disintegration than it put up during the year."

OMAR MEETS "OPERATION AUTOGRAPH". Dropping in at the famous Stardust club in Berlin Germany, Gen Omar Nelson Bradley, veterans' administration head who is top choice to succeed Gen Dwight D Eisenhower as Army chief of staff, finds himself surrounded in a GI maneuver that could well be called 'operation autograph.'

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Wood Stain and White Paint

Q. Our cupboard had been stained with a medium oak stain. We sanded it, put a stain-seal on it then two coats of semi-gloss white enamel. But the oak stain is bleeding through. What should we do now?

A. If the piece is not in the kitchen you can take off the enamel with a paste paint remover (inflammable!). After this has softened the enamel, scrape it off with hand scraper and steel wool. Wash off every trace of remover with turpentine, having plenty of ventilation in the room. The oak stain can be bleached out either with a prepared wood bleach (large paint store) or with a saturated solution of oxalic acid. Dissolve these crystals in hot water using as much of the crystals as a given quantity of liquid will dissolve. Apply hot and let this stay on the surface over night then rinse off thoroughly next morning. If the wood is slightly roughened, smooth with fine sandpaper and dust off. Finish with two coats of enamel undercoat and one coat of enamel

Insulation Question

Q. We are having the plaster taken off our ceiling and also are disposing of an old mattress. Would it be possible to use the stuffing of the mattress for insulation?

A. I should not advise it. There probably would not be enough of it to do a good job and the chances are the material would prove to be a fire hazard and would be unsuitable in any case. It is always best to use a top-quality, standard brand of insulation and apply it correctly according to the manufacturer's instructions

Cleaning Enameled Kitchen

Q. We have a white enameled kitchen that needs washing. What can be used to keep the original gloss and pure white color? I have been told that soap makes white turn yellow

A. Whatever you use should be thoroughly rinsed off afterward. There are good preparations on general sale intended for just your purpose. I suggest that you get one of these cleaning agents and be sure to follow directions carefully. A mild soap used on a good quality paint does not ordinarily turn it yellow. Surface should be well rinsed

Congressman Sees New, Deeper Tax Cutting Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept 8—Rep Knutson (R-Minn) sees a third and probably deeper tax cutting bill likely to come out of congress early next year.

As chairman of the house ways and means committee, Knutson sponsored the two $4,000,000,000 measures which President Truman vetoed last session.

"I very much doubt if we will be able to hold the line at 30, 20 and 10.5 per cent reductions," the Minnesota lawmaker wrote from his home in response to an Associated Press inquiry concerning G O P. tax plans in 1948.

One of 74 nurses graduated from Mt. Carmel hospital school of nursing Sunday afternoon was Miss Marie G. Granger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo W. Granger of the Grately pike. The class was the largest in the history of the hospital.

A graduate of St. Mary Parochial school here in 1943, she attended St. Mary of the Springs college in Columbus for five semesters, and then entered the nursing school at Mt. Carmel. Miss Granger completed her course in July, and since Aug. 1 has been working as supervisor of the nursery at Mt. Carmel hospital. She was home for two and one-half weeks before taking over her new position.

Miss Granger's parents and two sisters, Shirley and Jane, attended the exercises Sunday which were held in St. Joseph's cathedral.

BOWLING RESULTS

The 200 mark was cracked seven times Friday night as the Commercial and Independent bowling leagues went into action at the Palace and the City league started at the Marion.

The top single performance was a 254 by Reed at the Marion. Felter, rolling at the Palace, posted a 564 series, which included a 225 single.

Others who made successful 1947-1948 league debuts were Felter, 227; Schott, 201; and Robinson, 202, in the Independent loop.

Thompson rolled 209 in the Commercial league and Gorenflo a 208 at the Marion.

KAISER SEEKS TRIM IN STEEL FIRM DEBT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—Henry J. Kaiser said today he has asked the Reconstruction Finance Corp. for a $31,510,000 scale-down of his debt on his Fontana, Calif., steel plant. He was turned down last month when he asked an $85,000,000 cut.

The west coast industrialist told a news conference that he wants to double Fontana's capacity and plans to raise $80,000,000 privately to do so if RFC agrees to a "revaluation" of the plant and a cut in his debt."

The Fontana plant was built during the war with RFC financing. RFC's present loan claims total about $105,000,000 of an original $123,305,000.

Kaiser said another $15,000,000 will be applied to debt reduction by Jan. 1 and proposes that the RFC accept $55,400,000 in settlement of the approximately $90,000,000 debt he said will remain on that date.

"The government's turndown of the west on its previous proposal for the refinancing of Fontana leaves me at present with no alternative but to charge high prices for steel," Kaiser said in a statement prepared for his news conference.

"It puts me in the position of charging high prices to western consumers just to pay the government a lot of wartime costs for a wartime steel plant."

Declaring that the nation, "and particularly the west is suffering acutely from the shortage of steel," Kaiser said it makes mandatory the expansion of Fontana.

Cubs Lose Two, Win One

Triumph, 13-7; Drop 3-2 10-Inning Game, and Stumble Saturday, 9-5.

RICHMOND, Sept. 8—The Marion Cubs split a doubleheader with Richmond Sunday afternoon, winning the first game, 13-7, and losing the second in the bottom of the tenth, 3-2. The Cubs dropped Saturday night's game with Richmond, 9-5.

John Smith, Cub third baseman, got five hits in six times at bat in the first game Sunday, driving in two runs. Richmond used three pitchers in that game in an attempt to stop Cub batsmen, who collected 17 hits in all, seven of them in the six-run second inning. Cub pitcher Jitts Lawrence allowed 12 hits.

With two out and two on, a single by Richomnd left fielder Pottinger in the bottom of the tenth of the second game drove in the winning run, Bob Verrier, who had walked and moved on to second on a single by Carr. Both Cub runs came in the second inning, when a single by Smith sent in Forbes, who had walked and moved to second on Flamini's sacrifice. Singles by Maxhimer and Nelson brought Smith home. A triple by Verrier and a single by Carr accounted for the first Richmond run in the second. Richmond tied up the score when Verrier's double with two out in the third scored Buerger, who had walked.

Richmond bunched their 11 hits in Saturday's game to account for nine runs, while the Cubs' 10 hits went for five runs, four of them coming in the eighth, when Richmond's Logan, pitching his first Richmond game, weakened to allow five hits.

Logan, who hadn't pitched all summer, was selected most valuable pitcher in the Big Nine in 1942 when he was pitching for the University of Indiana.

Frank Smith will work for the Cubs in tonight's game, and Pete Swain will take the mound for Richmond.

Smitty's All-Stars of Marion played another one of those grim matches with Richwood V. F. W., winning 6-5, in eight innings. Hart singled to score Anderson from second with the winning run. Ted Welsh of Richwood got the game's lone homer.

Bums' Lambert Injured While Winning No. 23

By The Associated Press

Prospects for Zanesville's Sanford (Sandy) Lambert notching 25 Ohio State league slab victories depended today upon how seriously the youthful southpaw's flipper was injured while hanging up victory No. 23 last night at Dayton.

Almost certain to come home with 25 victories until his removal with a sore arm in the fifth round of the Dodgers' 6-0 whitewash of the Gem City Indians, Sandy's role in the final two weeks of the season and the subsequent Shaughnessy playoffs was the league-leaders' big question mark.

With George Stupur, a Dodger newcomer, Lambert got Zanesville an even break in yesterday's doubleheader and helped produce the circuit pace-setters shutout in three games. The Indians took the seven-inning opener, 6-3, after a 4-0 blanking Saturday.

Lamber unquestionably would have started four more contests between now and Sept. 21, closing date of the season, had his arm remained okay. And the odds were strong he'd have broken even to end the campaign with at least 25 wins. Sandy has lost but seven games.

Springfield, fighting to clinch the last playoff spot, and Muncie, third place, were the only teams rolling along comfortably in sweeping Sabbath twin bills. The Giants dropped Newark, 5-2, and again 21-9, while the last-place Lima tumbled before Muncie, 7-1 and 7-2.

George Whitehead Takes Over Reins at Edison

George Whitehead, an affable West Virginian who is the new head football, basketball and track coach at Thomas A. Edison Junior High school, is one of those fellows whose record speaks for itself.

Whitehead had only three years' coaching experience before being named to the Edison position, but that's only part of the story. From 1944 through 1946, his football and basketball teams at Alexandria High school each won two championships in the Licking county league.

Strong League Contender

With a coach sporting such an enviable record and with many new prospects coming up from the lower grades, Edison looms as a major threat in the Tri-City Junior High School league. This league, which has as members the three junior high schools of Marion and those from Galion and Bucyrus, started operation during the 1946-47 basketball season.

Whitehead is a native of Wellsburg(W. Va. After turning in an impressive record as a football and basketball player and track man at Wellsburg High, he attended a preparatory school at Mercersburg, Pa. for one year. Then came four years at Bethany, W. Va. college. Whitehead was a guard on the Bethany football team, played forward in basketball and was a dash man in track. He received his bachelor's degree from Bethany in 1938.

In War Work

Whitehead was away from the athletic front from 1938 to 1944. For three years after graduation from college, he was employed in the state department of public assistance of West Virginia. The next three years found him in war work at the Curtiss-Wright airplane factory in Columbus.

GEORGE WHITEHEAD

In addition to handling all the coaching duties at Edison, Whitehead will teach two classes of science and will have charge of all physical education classes. He and his wife live at 288 East Center street.

Mize Must Overcome Many Obstacles Before He Can Top Ruth in Home Runs

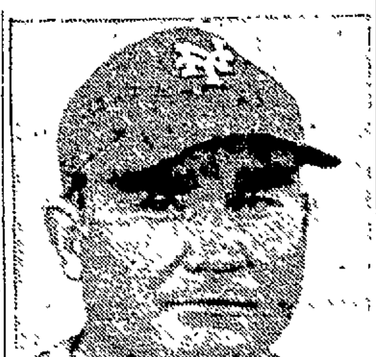
By FRANK ECK

Associated Press Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Johnny Mize, the New York Giant slugger who has more than an outside chance to smash Babe Ruth's record of 60 for one season, has a number of obstacles to overcome.

The big first baseman must also beat the weather and darkness. The Giants have several doubleheaders, and two complete games during the final month of the season are rare because the days keep getting shorter. Rain, too, could wash out a few games as the Giants do not have a single open date during their mid-September swing through the west.

If Mize does match or surpass Ruth's record 60 made in 1927 some veteran observers will point to the lively ball employed today in the National league. However, the ball Ruth hit for 714 American league home runs wasn't exactly a water-soaked nickel rocket.



JOHNNY MIZE
Has Long Road Ahead

The Babe received a pretty fair shake from the pitchers in 1927 for he blasted 17 home runs in September. Lou Gehrig, the popular first baseman, was the reason. If a pitcher walked Ruth he had to face Gehrig. The pitchers who walked Ruth played the part of the fish jumping out of the frying pan into the fire.

Gehrig batted .373 that year and hit 47 home runs himself.

Mize has no Gehrig behind him. With all due respects to Walker Cooper, a great catcher, his lifetime average until this saeson was only .294 compared with Gehrig's .340.

The fact that Cooper follows Mize in the Giant batting order is of little help to Johnny. The pitchers can bad ball pitch Mize throughout September and the closer he gets to Ruth's famed 60, the more bases on balls he will get even though Cooper, hitting around .310 all season, is having one of his best years.

And that short right field Polo Grounds where Mize plays half of his 154 games has been overdone. Nearly all of Mize's home runs have been solid wallops.

Schlairet Whipped, 3-0 By Lorain in Last Game

Schlairet felt the bite of defeat in their last baseball game of the season at Lorain yesterday afternoon.

They were shutout by the Lorain All-Stars, 3-0. Orinally scheduled to play Thew Shovel of Lorain, they played an All-Star team from the Lorain City league instead.

As a result of this game Schlairet closed its season with a 10-5 record.

ROSEBERRY GRAND SLAMS IN YESTERDAY'S SPORTS

Scores 2 TDs, Hits Home Run and Collects Double in 3 Games.

Behind the story of the Marion Crystal's 4-2 victory over Cardington in the Cardington hardball tournament, Smitty's All-Stars 6-5 victory over Richwood at Prospect, and the Marion Angeles semi-pro 18-0 football victory at Mt. Gilead, is the story of Max Roseberry.

It wasn't enough that he was listed as being a player in all of these events. At Cardington he hit, what was probably the longest home run ever hit in that park, across a road, and into a back yard. The ball could not be recovered until the couple living in the home called their dog off the ballplayer attempting to recover it.

For the All-Stars he got a double, two assists, and three putouts.

Roseberry started his day off, scoring two touchdowns for the Angels.

Angels Win Opener, 18-0

Local Semi-Pros Slap Coumbus Hilltop in 1947 Football Debut.

Marion Angels, hitting hard in the first quarter, opened their season with an 18-0 victory over Hilltop Athletic club of Columbus at Mt. Gilead yesterday. An estimated 1,000 saw the game.

All of the Marion scores came in the first quarter in six minutes, the game being fought on even terms between the 30-yard stripes for the next three.

Their first score came in the opening minutes, Roseberry intercepting a pass in the vicinity of the Columbus 30 and scoring from there.

Start Second Drive

After Columbus had received the kickoff and gone nowhere, Marion started their next touchdow bid from their own 41. Marion crossed the midfield stripe and after an offside penalty and 10-yard loss, a sleeper play, Simmons to Roseberry, started on the Hilltop 404, netted the locals their second score.

The final score was set up by end Howard Richardson, who tackled quarterback Neal Mowery behind the line and recovered the resulting fumble in the vicinity of the Hilltop 22. Howard Hodges picked up two yards. Ivey scampered to the two-yard marker and Hodges skirted the end for the final tally.

Saturday night, at Harding stadium, the Angels will take on a team expected to be somewhat rougher than yesterday's opponent in the Worthington semi-pro club, which shaded Marion last season.

Baseball Bugs Ask "Can Dodgers Hold?" Or "Can Cards Catch Up with Bums?"

By The Associated Press

In the east the six-word query on every baseball bug's lips is "Can the Dodgers hold their lead?" In the west it is "Can the Cards catch the Bums?'

Thus another question comes to mind. What pattern will the present red-hot National league race follow—that of 1941, 1942, or '46?

In each of these years it was a neck and neck drive for the wire between those rowdy rivals with no quarter asked. This year is no exception. Following yesterday's games Brooklyn still led the Redbirds, but only by five and a half games with three weeks of the season remaining.

Dodgers on Road

The Dodgers have 18 games to play, but 14 of these are on the road. The Cards have 21 games left, 14 at home. Any combination of 15 Dodger victories or St. Louis defeats would clinch the flag for Brooklyn.

A year ago today, the picture was decidedly different. The Cards were leading the Brooks by a game and a half. Brooklyn closed fast winning 14 of 21 while the Cards were taking only 12 of 20 to tie for first at the end of the regular playing season. What the Redbirds did to the Dodgers in the unprecedented playoff is something all Dodger fans would like to forget.

The Cardinals blew a wonderful opportunity to dig deep into Brooklyn's bulge yesterday when they lost the second game of a doubleheader to the Cincinnati Reds in St. Louis. They already had whipped the Reds in the opener, 12-2, while the Dodgers were beaten by the New York Giants at the Polo grounds, 7-6, to reduce Brooklyn's lead to five games. A win meant only a four and a half game difference, and best of all, only a three-game deficit in the losing column.

Shoved Back on Heels

But a southpaw slanter named Ken Raffensberger shoved them back on their heels with a nifty eight-hitter to twirl a 4-2 win for the Reds.

The Cards may have been dealt a severe blow when second baseman Red Schoendienst suffered a dislocated shoulder while sliding into second in the fourth inning of the opener. He was expected to be out for a week.

The Giants' big weapon, the home run, came to their assistance in their 7-6 conquest of the Dodgers. Johnny Mize clouted his 46th, Will Marshall his 35th and Buddy Kerr his sixth to account for six Giant runs. The Dodgers' Dixie Walker, Cookie Lavagetto and pinch hitter Gene Hermanski also belted balls into the stand.

The Yankees increased their American league lead to 12½ games yesterday by defeating the Senators in Washington, 7-1, while the Athletics were taking the measure of the Red Sox twice in Philadelphia, 7-4 and 4-3. Ted Williams' 29th home run was no help to the Red Sox.

Hal Newhouser dropped his 16th game as the St. Louis Browns, behind the four-hit pitching of Jack Kramer, shut out the third place Tigers in Detroit.

The fourth place Cleveland Indians moved to within two games of second when they edged out the White Sox in Chicago, 3-2.

The Philadelphia Phils won a 2-0 triumph over the Boston Braves. The third place Braves remained eight and a half games behind Brooklyn.

The Chicago Cubs took a 4-3 game from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Ashley Edges Blue Birds In 1-0 Pitching Contest

Pitching featured the Blue Bird-Ashley Independent game which Ashley won, 1-0, at Ashley yesterday.

Whetzel, pitching for the home team allowed only one hit, a double by Harvey in the ninth inning, and Moran, Blue Bird twirler, allowed only three in being charged with the loss.

MARKET GOES INTO USUAL MONDAY SLIDE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—The stock market negotiated its usual Monday retreat today although selling never was of an urgent character.

Dealings, relatively active at the start, slowed as the session progressed.

Accounts again were trimmed by professionals and customers who felt that the international economic situation threatened domestic business and corporate earnings.

An isolated firm spot on restricted sales was Universal-Cyclofs Steel which reflected the first extra disubursement in several years. Pleasing dividends were more or less ignored elsewhere.

In the casualty section most of the day were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Chesapeake and Ohio, American Woolen, Loew's, Paramount Pictures (at a 1947 low), Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Montgomery Ward, Deere, Caterpillar Tractor, United Aircraft, Consolidated Vultee, Western Union, Anaconda, American Smelting, Westinghouse, General Electric, Union Carbide, Du Pont and Owens-Illinois.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"GOSH all hemlock, Sweet!" my husband said, voicing the queer expletive which I have heard so many times from his lips. "I'm sunk! I've got that drawing all wrapped up, and I'm expecting the messenger at any minute. And mine editor is frothing through his dentures. But I'll unwrap it if you say so. Only hurry up here."

"You'll do nothing of the kind," I told him severely. "I'll see it in the magazine, and I'll see the original when you get it back. I have something else on my mind, and I want you to listen."

"Far be it from me to get in the way of your train of thought," he said, and I knew by his tone that he was relieved by my mandate against his unwrapping the drawing. "Go ahead! Fork out the clams!"

"That's what you'll be doing," I returned. "Are you hungry?"

"Am I hungry?" he exclaimed. "I could eat a broiled motor rug."

"I'll try to get you something better than that," I assured him. "Katharine says that you may have luncheon with Mary, and also with her, and with myself, if you promise to behave yourself."

"I'd love to," he said, "but I'll bet five ginger snaps to three salty crackers that Katrina never made that last mean crack. It sounds more like you, although I wouldn't put it past her, at that."

Beside the Point

"That's very much beside the point," I said. "What do you want me to order for you?"

"Everything on the menu, especially if it's seafood of any kind," he said. "Unless," he added loyally, "the order would give Mary ideas she shouldn't have."

"Mary already has ideas," I told him. "She may eat anything she likes, and as much as she likes. She has promised to eat what she calls a 'Paul Bunyan meal' tonight with Noel. But for lunch, she has ordered the lightest possible meal, and that under protest."

"Oh!" Dicky said comprehendingly. "You've evidently promised her she may study her lines this afternoon."

"Katharine did the promising," I told him, "and Mary is agog over the idea. I think that is the reason Katharine wishes you to come over for luncheon."

"To act as a counter-irritant, I suppose," he quipped.

"If it wouldn't inflate your ego, I'd say you're expected to be a counter-attraction," I told him. "So try to be at your nonsensical best."

His chuckle came cheeringly over the wire.

"The clown accepts the invitation," he said, "and will try to put on an effective act. But, I warn you, he wants a Gargantuan meal as a reward."

"I'll order everything on the menu," I told him. "Come down whenever you like."

"I'll do that," he replied, "but for the love of all the cherubim and seraphim, hurry up Room Service!"

"I'll do my best," I promised, and hung up the receiver on my "Good-bye."

A Favorite Dish

Then I telephoned Room Service, and found that the menu featured a lobster Newburgh, one of Dicky's favorite dishes. I ordered a double portion for him, with an appetizer of clams on the half-shell, a green salad, an assortment of cheeses for dessert, and a large pot of coffee.

Then I gave Mary's order, Katharine's and mine, and secured a promise that they would be up in twenty minutes.

Dicky did not appear for a good quarter of an hour, and I knew that he had stopped for a shower and a shave after his eye-straining work. He was scarcely in the room before Katharine put her head through the door, nodded her relief in finding him there, and then spoke to an invisible Mary.

A Surprise

"Come into the sitting room," she said. "There's a surprise in here for you."

"O-oh!" Mary squealed as she rushed into the room and saw her idolized uncle. "I didn't dare hope the surprise would be you! This must mean that the drawing is done."

"That's the general idea," Dicky said. "But, by all the gods and goddesses, Brat, you look as if you'd never had a sick day in your life! I'll bet you could go out with me tonight and make a tour of the bright lights without turning a hair. That is, if these two dragonesses would let you."
